Description:

Coastal Harvest Seafood Processing is seeking motivated individuals for the role of Fish Packing Specialist in our fast-paced Australian facilities. We invite applications from lower-level candidates or those with some experience in food production who are keen to work in a critical part of Australia's seafood supply chain. This role offers an opportunity to gain valuable industry experience in a structured and supportive environment.

Our operation requires a consistent focus on quality and efficiency. You will be responsible for ensuring that all seafood products are packed, sealed, and labelled according to strict quality standards and safety regulations. We value candidates who are reliable, possess strong attention to detail, and can work effectively as part of a team. Full on-the-job training will be provided to ensure all new team members are familiar with our processes and food safety requirements.
