The Role and Expectations

As a Skilled Bricklayer, you will be a vital part of our construction teams, responsible for the core masonry work that defines the quality and durability of our projects. Your main duties will revolve around laying bricks, blocks, and sometimes natural stone, ensuring every piece is placed with precision according to architectural drawings and local building codes. You will need to be proficient in preparing various types of mortar and compounds, maintaining a clean and safe work environment, and working efficiently to meet project deadlines. Strong technical skills and a high level of craftsmanship are essential. We value candidates who take pride in their work and demonstrate reliability and a commitment to quality.

Working Environment and Benefits

You will be working on dynamic construction sites, which requires physical fitness and a willingness to work outdoors in various weather conditions. We operate based on standard German working hours and offer a competitive monthly gross salary that is in line with or exceeds industry standards for skilled tradespeople in Germany. The provided salary range of USD 3,500 – 5,000 (Gross/Monthly) is an estimate of the equivalent remuneration in US dollars, with the final pay being issued in Euros (EUR). We also provide standard employment benefits as per German law, including contributions to health insurance, pension, and paid holiday leave.
