order fulfillment, requiring you to accurately pick and pack items for dispatch, ensuring they are correctly labeled and documented for safe transit. You will routinely operate various types of material handling equipment, such as pallet jacks and potentially forklifts (where certification is highly valued, and training may be available).

The ideal candidate possesses a diligent, structured, and conscientious approach to work. Familiarity with modern Warehouse Management Systems (WMS) or Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software like SAP for inventory posting is a major advantage, though we are prepared to train motivated individuals. You must be physically capable of standing for long periods, bending, lifting, and managing movement of goods within the facility. Reliability, adherence to stringent German occupational safety guidelines, and strong collaboration with team members and supervisors are non-negotiable requirements for success. This role offers excellent opportunities for growth and professional development within the logistics field for those who demonstrate commitment and high performance.
