Your Role and Contribution:

As a Food Production Cook, you will be a vital part of the culinary brigade. Your day-to-day work will involve following standardized recipes and production schedules with meticulous accuracy, ensuring that every meal prepared meets the exacting specifications of our diverse airline clients. Strong attention to detail and portion control are crucial, as is the proficiency in various cooking methods necessary for our varied menus.

We are looking for individuals who possess solid food safety and sanitation knowledge and who maintain a clean and organized work station at all times. The fast-paced, high-stakes environment of flight catering demands reliability and punctuality, and the ability to demonstrate excellent time management to meet tight production deadlines for flights. A spirit of teamwork and cooperation is essential, as you will be coordinating closely with other kitchen staff and various departments to ensure the seamless flow of operations.

Career Growth and Environment:

While this is an entry-level to experienced role, AirServe Culinary Group is committed to the growth of its employees. We offer a challenging yet rewarding work environment where new hires are expected to have a willingness to complete continuous training in both culinary techniques and the specific requirements of airline catering. This is an excellent opportunity to gain specialized experience in a complex and exciting sector of the food industry, setting the stage for future advancement within our organization.
